Person Centered Planning

Plan facilitation is short term planning with a purpose. It involves the development of a person-centered plan that includes the person and the collective wisdom of people who know, like and believe in them the most. The strength-based plan identifies specific goals and steps to achieve them.

Purpose

- Discover the person's dreams, desires, and interests
- Build on strengths, talents, and gifts
- Empower the person to plan a full, inclusive, and meaningful life
- Create and implement an action plan
- Increase community opportunities
- Dream of what is possible

Types of Plans

- PATH Plans
- Essential Lifestyle Plans
- Community Maps
- One-page Profile

The plan is a living and fluid document that can be adjusted based on what is learned
